

San Francisco Airport SFO | Terminal 3

OVERVIEW

WHERE CAN I EAT & DRINK AT SFO TERMINAL 3?

There are more than two dozen dining options in San Francisco Airport's Terminal 3, ranging from famous names to grab-and-go choices.

The smaller Concourse E is home to a Burger King and several sandwich vendors for quick bites. For a sit-down option with table service, try Union Street Gastropub or Mission Bar & Grill. Pronto! brings in a revolving set of dishes from Bay Area restaurants, Urban Tortilla features made-to-order Mexican food, and Sankaku has sushi to go.

Most dining options will be found in the larger Concourse F, which has a food court. Try gourmet ballpark fare at the San Francisco Giants Club House, one of SFO's most lively offerings. Visit Yankee Pier for fresh seafood, taste a flight before your flight at a wine bar like SF Uncork'd, stop at Amoura Cafe for Mediterranean classics, or try any of the endless sandwich and beverage stands. There's even a robotic coffee bar. This is San Francisco, after all.

TRY THIS! The San Francisco Giants Club House serves up Gilroy Garlic Fries, an iconic Bay Area favorite.

WHAT CAN I BUY AT SFO TERMINAL 3?

San Francisco International Airport Terminal 3 shopping choices are reflective of the Bay Area. Visit InMotion or vending machines in either concourse for tech gadgets and travel equipment like headphones. Multiple newsstands and Sunglass Hut outlets also serve both concourses.

Most shops are located in Concourse F. California Lifestyle features local apparel, foods, wine, and gifts. Go to District Market for a wide selection of souvenirs. Visit Tumi for supple leather goods and luggage. Satisfy your sweet tooth at See's Candies, a California institution.

In Concourse E, be sure to visit Chalo, which specializes in unique local products with an artistic flair. The sparkling Jo Malone shop also stocks Tom Ford and Aveda products.

WHERE CAN I RELAX AT SFO TERMINAL 3?

There are two United Club lounges in San Francisco Airport Terminal 3, one in each concourse. One is near Gate E2; the other is in the F Gates rotunda. Admission is complimentary for elite members. Entry for those with a Star Alliance itinerary can be purchased at the door for $59 when available.

The American Express Centurion Lounge near Gate F2 is available to Platinum and Centurion members, who may bring up to two guests or immediate family. Special amenities include a Napa Valley wine tasting experience and semi-private workspaces.

WHAT ELSE CAN I DO AT SFO TERMINAL 3?

You'll find more than a dozen pieces of public art in San Francisco International Airport's Terminal 3, along with rotating exhibits in the pre-security area. Visit the SFO Museum to learn about current exhibitions. Need to stretch? Enjoy the complimentary yoga mats in the Concourse E yoga room. Let little ones burn energy at the Kids' Spots near gates E7 and F18, where they'll find interactive museum exhibits and play areas.

DEPARTING FROM SFO TERMINAL 3

Terminal 3 hosts the E and F concourses and 36 gates. From the Level 2 departure area, enter through the security checkpoint and toward either concourse. The airport lounges are in the area immediately following the checkpoint, along with shops, restaurants, and other services spread near the gates.

In the small E Concourse, which has 13 gates, E1 to E4 are closest to the checkpoint, while Gate E13 is the farthest away, at a five-minute walk. The larger F concourse is divided into two spokes diverging from a central hub. The nearest gates to the checkpoint include gates F1 to F4. Gate F10 is at the end of the closer spoke, while Gate F20 is a 10-minute walk away down the farther spoke.

People customarily arrive two hours in advance for a domestic flight from San Francisco International Airport Terminal 3.

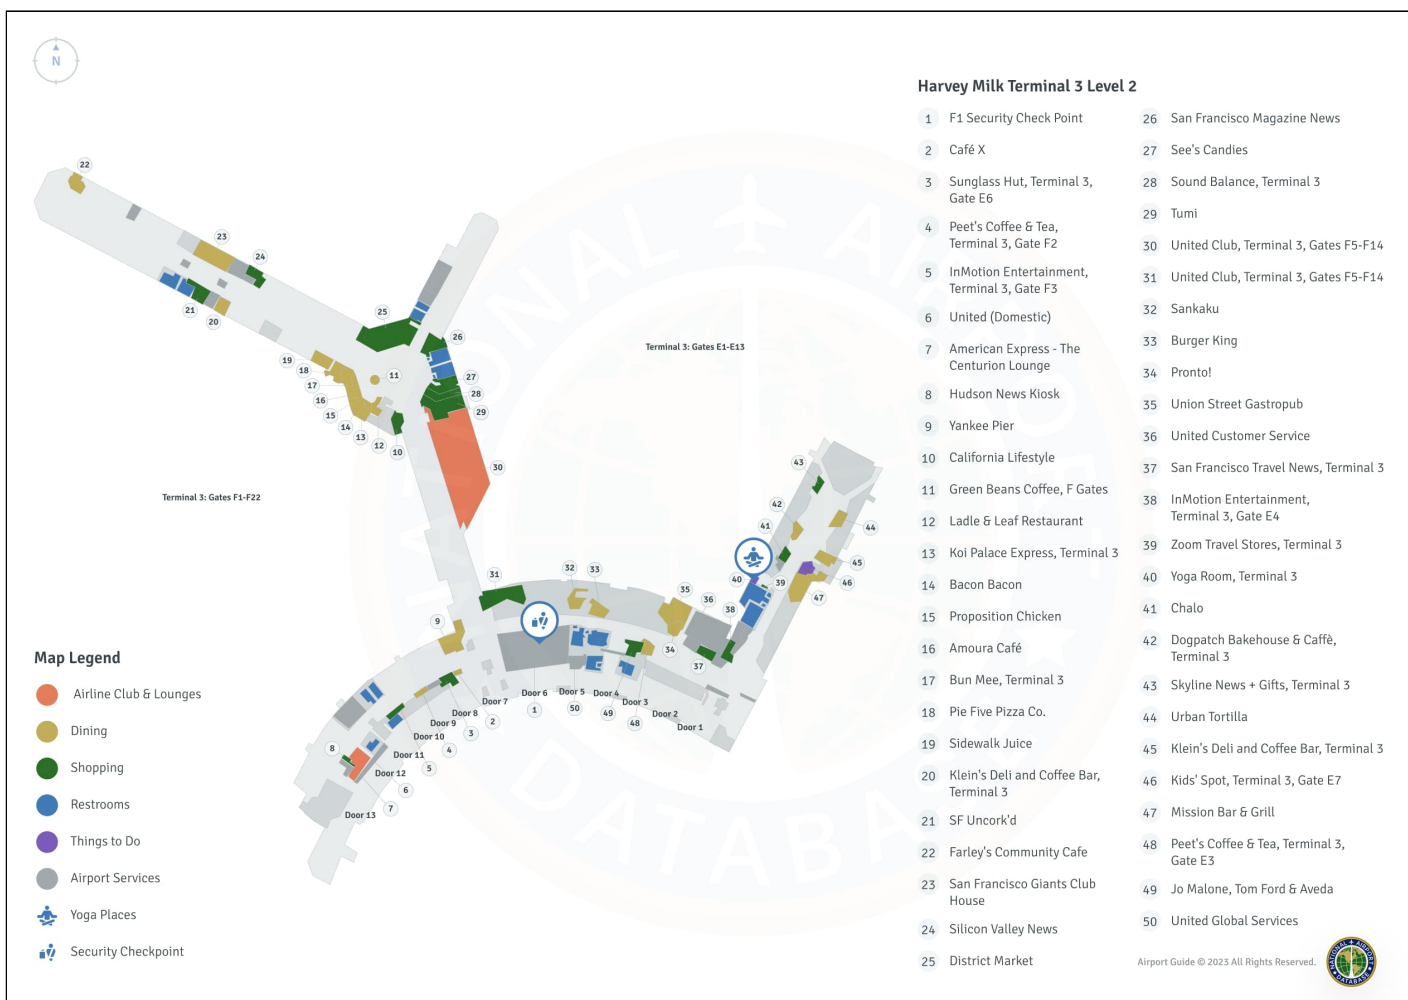

ARRIVING AT SFO TERMINAL 3

When you arrive at SFO Terminal 3, you will not have to go through customs because it is a domestic terminal. You can go straight to the baggage claim area on Level 1, or exit if you have no baggage. The terminal is served by 10 baggage carousels. You can check the screens in the luggage collection area to know where your bags will appear.
